Join the Consumer Advisory Steering Committee for the PRAGMATIC Trial

Help Shape the Future of Infection Treatment!

The PhaRmAcogenoMics for better treatment of fungAl infections In Cancer (PRAGMATIC trial) aims to understand how we can better provide treatment to prevent severe infections in people being treated for blood cancers. This trial is funded by an Australian Government Medical Research Future Fund grant.

We need your voice to ensure that consumer perspectives are at the heart of this important research. We are forming a consumer advisory steering committee to provide ongoing strategic advice during and after the PRAGMATIC trial to ensure that it provides meaningful outcomes for patients, their families and the community for patients, their families and the community.

You will be paid for your time according to the Health Translation Queensland guidance for health consumers.

Talk to your study team if you are interested in being involved!
